The Feedback Sandwich Is Not So Tasty

How do you currently provide feedback to staff?

What challenges have you encountered using your current feedback methods?

What obstacles do you see in changing your current supervision strategies?

You know more than you think

Embrace opportunities to try new strategies. Some will work well and you will continue to use them. Others won't fit your particular needs and you won't continue using them.

Completing this Mission provides the guidance you need to consciously choose your feedback method!
